1 THE CLERK: Criminal cause for arraignment. Case
2 number 08-CR-76, United States versus Frank Cali, Charles
3 Carneglia, Joseph Corozzo, Sarah Dauria, Robert Epifania and
4 Vincent Gotti.

5 Counsel, please state your name for the record.

6 MS. HORMOZI: Mitra Hormozi and Joey Lipton for 7 the United States.

8 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

9 MS. HORMOZI: Good afternoon, your Honor.

10 MR. LEEMON: Good afternoon, your Honor. Scott
11 Leemon on behalf of Vincent Gotti.

12 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

13 MR. MAHLER: Steven Mahler (ph) for Robert
14 Epifania.

15 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

16 MR. EPSTEIN: Bennett Epstein for Sarah Dauria.

17 THE COURT: Alright, good afternoon.

18 MR. COROZZO: Good afternoon, your Honor. On 19 behalf of Joseph Corozzo, Joseph Corozzo.

20 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

21 MR. FARBER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Curtis
22 Farber for Charles Carneglia.

23 THE COURT: Alright, good afternoon. Do any of 24 the defendants here have any difficulty speaking and 25 understanding English?

1 MR. LIPTON: No, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Alright, let me then just start. All
3 of you are here today because a grand jury has returned
4 an --

5 THE CLERK: Mr. Cali's attorney is not here.

6 THE COURT: Oh.

7 THE CLERK: Who is Cali's attorney?

8 (Pause in proceedings)

9 MR. LEEMON: I can stand up for arraignment
10 purposes, if you'd like.

11 THE CLERK: Sure, fine.

12 THE COURT: Alright. As you may know, the grand 13 jury has returned an indictment charging you with various 14 counts. And I'd like to find out, starting with Mr. Cali,
15 whether he has had the opportunity to review the indictment
16 and the charges set forth in that indictment.

17 DEFENDANT CALI: Yes.

18 THE COURT: Alright, sir. And do you understand
19 those charges?

20 DEFENDANT CALI: Yes.

21 THE COURT: And did you review those charges with 22 your attorney, Sir?

23 DEFENDANT CALI: Yes.

24 THE COURT: Alright. Mr. Carneglia, have you also 25 had the opportunity to review the indictment with your

1 counsel and do you understand the charges?

2 DEFENDANT CARNEGLIA: Yes.

3 THE COURT: Alright, Mr. Epifania?

4 DEFENDANT EPIFANIA: Yes, Ma'am.

5 THE COURT: Alright, Sir, did you also have a
6 chance to review the indictment and do you understand those 7 charges?

8 DEFENDANT EPIFANIA: Yes, Ma'am.

9 THE COURT: Alright. And Ms. Dauria?

10 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

11 THE COURT: Alright. You reviewed the indictment
12 and you understand the charges, ma'am?

13 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

14 THE COURT: And Mr. Gotti? Sir, did you have a
15 chance to review the indictment with your attorney and do
16 you understand the charges?

17 DEFENDANT GOTTI: Yes.

18 THE COURT: Alright. Do all counsel here
19 represent to the Court that they have in fact reviewed the 20 indictment with their clients and are satisfied that they
21 understand the charges?

22 ALL: Yes, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Does everybody else waive -- Does
24 anybody want me to read the indictment?

25 ALL: No, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Alright. Let me start with Mr. Cali.
2 Sir, do you wish to enter a plea at this time?

3 DEFENDANT CALI: Yes.

4 THE COURT: What is that, sir?

5 DEFENDANT CALI: Not guilty.

6 THE COURT: Alright, the Court will enter a not
7 guilty plea for Mr. Cali.

8 Mr. Carneglia, Sir, would you like to enter a
9 plea?

10 DEFENDANT CARNEGLIA: No, I object to the 11 indictment.

12 THE COURT: Alright. So, you're not entering a 13 plea of --

14 MR. FARBER: Your Honor, reserving all rights that 15 Mr. Carneglia may have.

16 (Mr. Carneglia consults with his attorney)

17 THE COURT: Would you like to confer with him?
18 I'm going to move to the other defendants right now so we 19 can keep --

20 Mr. Corozzo, sir --

21 DEFENDANT COROZZO: Not guilty.

22 THE COURT: Alright, we'll enter a not guilty plea
23 for Mr. Corozzo, Joseph Corozzo.

24 Mr. Epifania, sir?

25 DEFENDANT EPIFANIA: Not guilty.

1 THE COURT: Alright, we'll enter a not guilty plea
2 for Mr. Epifania. Thank you.

3 And, Ms. Dauria?

4 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Not guilty.

5 THE COURT: We'll enter a not guilty plea for Ms.
6 Dauria.

7 And, Mr. Gotti?

8 DEFENDANT GOTTI: Not guilty.

9 THE COURT: We'll enter a not guilty plea for Mr.
10 Gotti.

11 Does the government have a position on bail with 12 respect to Mr. Cali? Well, his attorney, is he here yet?
13 He's not here yet.

14 THE CLERK: I don't believe his attorney is here
15 yet, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Alright, let's come back to him. What
17 is your position with respect to bail for Mr. Joseph
18 Corozzo, Sr.?

19 MS. LIPTON: Judge, the government is seeking a
20 permanent order of detention for Mr. Corozzo.

21 THE COURT: Counsel, I'll hear from you.

22 MR. COROZZO, JR.: Your Honor, as we're not
23 prepared to go forward at this time, we do not object to a
24 permanent order of detention being filed today, obviously 25 without prejudice, so that we might make the application in

1 the future.

2 THE COURT: We will grant leave to Mr. Joseph
3 Corozzo to make an application in the future. Does he have 4 any medical needs or conditions that we need to make the 5 government aware of at this time?

6 MR. COROZZO, JR.: No, your Honor. Any needs,
7 I'll contact the MDC myself.

8 THE COURT: Alright, thank you. With respect to 9 Mr. Epifania, what is the government's position?

10 MR. LIPTON: I believe the defendant is going to 11 consent to a temporary order of detention and we want to 12 schedule a bail hearing next week.

13 THE COURT: Alright, we have a bail hearing
14 scheduled for February 12th at 11:00 am. Does Mr. Epifania
15 have any medical needs or conditions, medications?

16 MR. MAHLER: I don't believe so.

17 THE COURT: Alright, thank you, sir.

18 Ms. Dauria. What is your position on the question
19 of bail or detention for Ms. Dauria?

20 MR. EPSTEIN: Two hundred thousand PRB unsecured.

21 MR. LIPTON: That's correct, your Honor. I
22 believe counsel himself had come to an agreement of $200,000
23 unsecured bond.

24 THE COURT: Alright. And are the suretors here
25 today?

1 MR. EPSTEIN: No, your Honor. It's February 15th.
2 She'll be released today on her own signature and two
3 financial responsible persons will sign by February 15th.
4 That's a week from tomorrow.

5 THE COURT: Alright.

6 MR. EPSTEIN: And also permission to travel to 7 Erie, Pennsylvania, in addition to the Southern and Eastern
8 Districts of New York.

9 THE COURT: Just Erie? Is that it?

10 MR. EPSTEIN: No, District of Pennsylvania. I
11 think in order to get to Erie, you practically have to go
12 through the whole state.

13 THE COURT: Alright, alright. Let me just review
14 the conditions. Then Ms. Dauria will be released on a
15 $200,000 bond signed by two financially responsible suretors
16 no later than February 15th. Her travel will be restricted
17 to the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York across the 18 State of Pennsylvania.

19 Do you have a passport, ma'am?

20 MR. EPSTEIN: Your Honor, I understand the 21 government is already in possession of her passport.

22 THE COURT: Alright. While this matter is
23 pending, you may not apply for another passport.

24 Do you understand?

25 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

1 THE COURT: In addition, ma'am, you will be under
2 the supervision of Pretrial Services. You must report to 3 them as directed. They will be authorized to visit you at 4 your place of residence and business without prior notice.

5 In addition, if you fail to come to court as
6 directed, a warrant will be issued for your arrest and you
7 will be held in jail without bail until the time of your 8 trial.

9 Failure to appear may result in charges of bail
10 jumping, which can be punished by up to five to ten years in 11 prison even if you were never convicted of underlying
12 charges in this case. If you are convicted, your sentence
13 for bail jumping will be consecutive to any sentence that 14 you may receive if you are convicted of the charges in this 15 case.

16 You're subject to increased punishment if you
17 commit any crime while out on bail. And if you threaten any 18 witness or attempt to influence the testimony of anyone who 19 may be a witness in this case, you may be subject to 20 punishment for that as well.

21 Is there any restriction on her associations that 22 the government would propose? Codefendants?

23 MR. LIPTON: Yes, Judge. And I think we're going
24 to be doing this throughout. The government is going to ask
25 for a no contact order with any known members and associates

1 of organized crime.

2 THE COURT: Alright. You will have no contact
3 with any known members or associates or organized crime and 4 none of the other defendants except in the presence of 5 counsel.

6 Do you understand?

7 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes, however, one of the
8 defendants is -- I share yard space with them in Staten
9 Island.

10 THE COURT: Well, when you say yard space, what
11 does that mean?

12 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yard and office space.

13 THE COURT: Who's that?

14 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Mario Cassarino.

15 THE COURT: Alright. Well, Mister -- You cannot 16 have any contact. Do not discuss anything with him, do not
17 speak to him, do not have any conversations with him. No
18 direct or indirect contact, email, voice mail, telephone
19 through an intermediary in writing or orally.

20 Do you understand?

21 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

22 THE COURT: Alright. In addition, ma'am, if you
23 attempt to influence the testimony of anyone who may be a
24 witness, you may be subject to punishment for that as 25 well. You must keep your attorney and Pretrial Services

1 apprised of your whereabouts. You must appear in court as
2 directed. Do not commit any crimes while you're out on bail.
3 And do not attempt to influence the testimony of anyone who
4 may be a witness or have any contact with any co-defendant
5 or known member or associate of organized crime.

6 Do you understand those conditions, ma'am?

7 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

8 THE COURT: Alright. Will you be able to live up
9 to those conditions?

10 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

11 THE COURT: Alright. And the two suretors will be 12 advised that if you violate any of these conditions,
13 judgment will be entered jointly and separate against you
14 and your suretors in the amount of $200,000.

15 Do you understand?

16 DEFENDANT DAURIA: Yes.

17 THE COURT: Alright. Alright, let's here with 18 respect to Mr. Gotti. What is the government's position on 19 detention or bail?

20 MS. HORMOZI: Your Honor, the government is going
21 to move for a permanent order of detention against Mr.
22 Gotti.

23 MR. LEEMON: Your Honor, at this time we consent
24 to a permanent order with leave to make an appropriate bail
25 application at the appropriate time.

1 THE COURT: Alright. The Court will enter a
2 permanent order and grant leave to Mr. Gotti to make a bail
3 application.

4 Does Mr. Gotti have any medical needs or
5 conditions?

6 MR. LEEMON: He does, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Alright.

8 MR. LEEMON: He has acid reflux as well as
9 glaucoma, and he's on medication. I'd ask that that please
10 be marked.

11 THE COURT: Alright. If you would write the name
12 of the medication on the piece of paper.

13 MR. LEEMON: I understand that the government or 14 Pretrial has one of the medications in a refrigerator, and I
15 have the other two right now.

16 THE COURT: I'm not sure that the marshals will
17 allow him to bring that medication with him.

18 MR. LEEMON: That's alright, I'll write it down.

19 THE COURT: But if you write it down we'll make 20 sure that he gets them.

21 MR. LEEMON: Okay, thank you.

22 THE COURT: Alright, getting back to Mr. Cali, did
23 we have a position on Mr. Cali's detention or bail? I
24 believe his -- Are you here? What is your name, sir?

25 MR. PROBST: Harlan Probst (ph).

1 THE COURT: I'm sorry?

2 MR. PROBST: Harlan Probst.

3 THE COURT: Alright.

4 MR. LIPTON: The government seeks a permanent
5 order of detention against Mr. Cali.

6 THE COURT: Alright. Did you have a bail
7 application to make at this time, sir?

8 MR. PROBST: We'd like to schedule a hearing
9 for --

10 THE COURT: We scheduled a hearing for February
11 14th at 11:00. Is that suitable?

12 MR. PROBST: Yes, it is.

13 THE COURT: Alright. Does Mr. Cali have any 14 medical needs, medications or other conditions that we 15 should be aware of?

16 MR. PROBST: No, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Alright, thank you.

18 I think Mr. Carneglia and his attorney have had an 19 opportunity to confer at this time?

20 MR. FARBER: Yes, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Alright. Did he wish to enter a plea?

22 MR. FARBER: Yes, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: And what is that?

24 MR. FARBER: He enters a plea of not guilty.

25 THE COURT: Alright, the Court will enter a plea

1 of not guilty for Mr. Carneglia. And does the government
2 have a position on bail or detention for Mr. Carneglia?

3 MR. LIPTON: Yes, Judge. The government seeks a
4 permanent order of detention against Mr. Carneglia.

5 THE COURT: Do you have an application, sir?

6 MR. FARBER: We consent to the order of detention
7 without prejudice.

8 THE COURT: Alright, the Court will enter a
9 permanent order of detention without prejudice for Mr.
10 Carneglia to return and present a bail package.

11 Does Mr. Carneglia have any medical conditions,
12 medications or other issues that we should be aware of?

13 MR. FARBER: Yes, your Honor. He has asthma and 14 bronchitis and is dependent on the use of a ventilator.

15 THE COURT: Alright, if you could write the name
16 of his medication, I'll sign an order asking the MDC to 17 examine him and provide treatment.

18 Did Mr. Cali enter a plea yet? He may not have.
19 He did. Alright, not guilty. Alright, thank you.

20 Is there anything else I need to address at this
21 time? Do we have a date?

22 THE CLERK: Yes, your Honor. Judge Garaufis has 23 asked that the initial status conference for the first half
24 of the defendants scheduled for February 27th at 11:00. And 25 for the second half, February 28th at 11:00.

1 THE COURT: Alright.

2 MR. CORROZZO JR.: Your Honor, on behalf of Mr.
3 Corrozzo, we would object to the exclusion of time. And we
4 don't think it's necessary. We will be moving the district
5 court for a speedy trial. We just wanted to make it clear
6 that that would run as of the time of the arraignment.

7 THE COURT: Alright. Anyone else? Does anyone
8 else wish to join the exclusion of time?

9 (Pause in proceedings)

10 THE COURT: Alright. It seems that the other
11 defendants are going to object to the exclusion of time,
12 their speedy trial rights.

13 MR. LIPTON: Judge, do you mind if we just get 14 that on the record? The government is asking to exclude 15 time and I guess if they don't object, it's up to your 16 Honor. Time is excluded, but if we could just get it on the 17 record as to who is objecting.

18 THE COURT: Alright. Let's start at the 19 beginning. Mr. Cali, does he object to the exclusion of 20 time?

21 MR. PROBST: No.

22 THE COURT: Pardon me?

23 MR. PROBST: No, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: He does not object. Alright. Does
25 Mr. Carneglia object to the exclusion of time?

1 MR. FARBER: My client would like to object, your
2 Honor.

3 THE COURT: Objects. Okay, Mr. Carneglia objects.
4 Does Mr. Corrozzo --

5 MR. CORROZZO JR.: He is objecting.

6 THE COURT: Is objecting, yes, alright. And, Ms.
7 Dauria, do you object, ma'am?

8 MR. EPSTEIN: She does not, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: Does not. Alright.

10 Mr. Epifania?

11 MR. MAHLER: No, not at this time, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Alright. What about Mr. Vincent
13 Gotti?

14 MR. LEEMON: We do not consent, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Alright, so you object, also.

16 Alright. Let me ask the government of their grounds.

17 MS. HORMOZI: Just to clarify, the government is 18 going to move to designate this case complex. So, if the 19 Court grants it complex for one defendant, it would be 20 granted for all defendants.

21 As to the basis, there are hundreds of hours if 22 not more of tape recordings and thousands of documents that 23 we will have to turn over in discovery.

24 MR. CORROZZO JR.: Your Honor, however, the 25 government has chosen to indict 55 people -- approximately

1 55 people on one indictment. And I think they're doing that
2 so that when they declare it complex maybe against one
3 person, it carries over to everyone.

4 The government is fully aware of the Second
5 Circuit law that will not allow for a trial of 55 people.
6 And I don't know if this case is complex to each and every
7 defendant in the case.

8 I am very familiar with the charges against my 9 client and I know that it's not complex. And I can try this
10 case within the 70 days prescribed by statute. So, I'm 11 objecting. I request that this Court not declare the case
12 complex until it's further briefed by both sides.

13 THE COURT: Alright, well, you have a date before
14 Judge Garaufis later this month. Correct?

15 MS. HORMOZI: Yes, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Alright. So, I think at this time,
17 then, until there's briefing submitted on the issue of 18 complexity, since Mr. Corrozzo has asked for leave to do
19 that, I'm not prepared to make a decision without hearing
20 from Mr. Corrozzo.

21 MR. CORROZZO: Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Alright.

23 MR. CORROZZO: Your Honor, and lastly, I would
24 just like to address potential orders of separation. It
25 seems that the government is moving to detain numerous

1 people in this case, at least the five people here.

2 From experience, most of the people go to the same
3 holding facility; most likely the Metropolitan Detention
4 Center. If the government moves for orders of separation
5 from the codefendants, that would require the Metropolitan
6 Detention Center to keep a great number of these defendants
7 in the hole because there's just not enough units to 8 separate each and every one of them.

9 I've consulted with all counsel that are present
10 before your Honor whose clients are being detained today and 11 none of them wish for orders of separation. Every defendant
12 here would specifically request that no orders of separation 13 are put in.

14 I know the Court's not going to do it. I'm just 15 concerned about the government doing it unilaterally without 16 cause.

17 MR. LIPTON: Your Honor, to the extent the 18 government's going to make any request to the Bureau of 19 Prisons for a separation order for purposes of collusion,
20 for purposes of safety, for purposes of anything else, all
21 ends up to the Bureau of Prisons.

22 At this time, we have not made such a request.
23 And should we make a request, defense counsel's perfectly
24 able to make that appropriate objection to BOP if they wish.

25 THE COURT: Alright, well, it's without prejudice

1 for you to state your client's position to BOP on that
2 issue. Alright, Sir?

3 MR. CORROZZO: Yes, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Alright. Is there anything else I
5 need to address with any of these defendants?

6 MR. EPSTEIN: Your Honor, my client signed her
7 bond, does she need to swear to it at this point?

8 THE COURT: No. I did want to get those medical
9 requests back for the defendants so that we can make sure --
10 Alright. Is there anything else at this time?

11 ALL: No, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.
